

Information about the preventive COVID-19-vaccination with Comirnaty KP.2 and exclusion of liability for vaccinations outside the German STIKO recommendations

The German National Standing Committee on Vaccination (STIKO) has currently recommended a booster vaccination against Sars-CoV-2 with an adapted vaccine (Comirnaty KP.2) for people aged 60 years and older, and for people aged 6 months and older with chronic diseases that are associated with an increased risk of a severe COVID-19 disease course.

There is currently no such vaccination recommendation for the group of people without these risk factors.

Our practice will vaccinate you if this is not covered by the STIKO recommendations.

However, we would like to point out that without a STIKO recommendation neither the state of Germany nor the vaccinating doctor can be held liable for vaccine-related health impairments or health damages. Fortunately, those cases are extremely rare.

If you wish to be vaccinated without the recommendation of the STIKO, please confirm receipt of this information and your consent to the exclusion of liability of the vaccinating doctor by signing this form and handing it in to the general practitioner's office of Dr. med. Peter Däubler, Schemppstr. 31, 70619 Stuttgart before the vaccination.

Name: _____

Date of birth: _____

I hereby confirm that I have taken note of the information above and that I agree to the vaccination without the recommendation of the STIKO and with the exclusion of liability of the vaccinating doctor.
